THE ROAD LESS TRAVELLED: Streams of sunlight between the pillars of the rock-face tunnel on the Marcos Highway create intriguing geometric patterns on the pavement. Constructed and carved out of a mountain slope, the Marcos Highway is one of three routes that lead to Baguio City. Though it's the longer way, it's more scenic and travel-friendly in that it doesn't have the dangerous curves and the sharper zigzags of Kennon and Naguilian Roads.

CARP 19 YEARS

Agrarian reform is not about land distribution alone. It is about raising fallen Filipinos from depths of destituteness and absence of hope. It is about sharing. It is about overcoming greed and lust for power.

The Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Program (CARP) has, in the past nineteen years, attempted to change the feudal make-up of the countryside by freeing farmers from years of bondage. It has tried to break up the structure of patronage by affording those who till the land golden opportunities for self-determination, enterprise, and growth.

In this battle against want and poverty, the program has lost some, and won some. Today, CARP has transformed...

- Changes in tenurial relations [illegible]
- Higher farm investments and productivity by ARBs [illegible]
- ARBs have a lower incidence of poverty than non-ARBs [illegible]

We Attest!

Stories of farmers becoming successful entrepreneurs are aplenty. With the help of the foreign and local partner agencies, agrarian reform beneficiaries now reap the fruits of their hardwork.

"The tiger grass project of the DAR and the Asian Development Bank was truly a manna from heaven. All my siblings were able to go to school from my soft broom earnings. All the tiger grass growers and soft broom-makers in our community benefited from the project." – Randy Dangla – Pagsal, Santol, La Union

"I am now earning an average of P1-M per harvest. The biggest share comes from the sale of mangoes, which are exported to Hongkong by my client, Philharvest and Sorvet Mango Corporation. I am expanding my market to Japan and United States. I don't think that I'd stop helping to empower more farmers." – Eriberto de Ocampo – Cabaruan, Naguilian, Isabela

"Joining DAR's agri trade fairs boosted my marketing skills. It brought my calamansi nectar product to many places from Manila, Cagayan, Ilocos Sur and La Union." – Corazon Eduardo – Malasin, Aurora, Isabela

"With the help of Mahalaw Agrarian Reform Beneficiaries Association, I was able to avail marketing assistance from DAR for my turmeric powder business. It even won the "Rookie Product of the Year-Food Category" in 2005 Agraryo Trade Fair held at SM Megamall. It was an opportunity to expose my product in a wider market." – Malou Publico – [illegible], Mahalaw, Batangas

"After attending the meat processing seminar led by DAR, I started to venture into the business for me and for La Concepcion Consumers Cooperative. We now produce an average of 50 kilograms of meat per week, which gives us an earning of Php 7,000 a week. Our coop was able to generate jobs for the people in our community." – Melinda Ramos – Pilar, Bataan

"I share the farm technologies I learned through seminars to my fellow agrarian reform beneficiaries. Today, it's not only the farmers in Naic who are productive and earning, even the tricycle drivers [illegible] became the frequent buyers from other communities who buy our harvests in bulk hire their services." – Jonalito Tibayan – Palangue, Naic, Cavite

"We are thankful that the DAR organized the Carmennan Multi-Purpose Cooperative, one of the most progressive agrarian reform cooperatives in the country, which successfully pooled an asset of P10-M in just five years. The candle-making business provided jobs to women who used to depend only on their husbands to support their families. Now, we have a higher level of self-worth because we can help in raising the standard of living of our children. It's our turn to savor the good life." – Lala Mercado – Bana ARC, Calatagan, Batangas

"We are very grateful to the DAR's President Diosdado Macapagal Agrarian Scholarship Program. It gives poor children of farmers access to college education. We are happy because we were able to graduate with honors." – Jasmin and Ellen Hibay – Sorsogon

"Thanks to DAR's Agrarian Reform Community Project as well as to the local government of Quinapondan. DAR's project is such a big help to me and my family. If not for the irrigation project, farm-to-market road and technical assistance on appropriate farming technology, we cannot accomplish so much." – Leo Muñoz – Quinapondan, Eastern Samar

"Before, knee-deep flood not only destroyed our homes and livelihood but also put our lives in danger. The rehabilitation of the protection dike reduced the incidence of flooding in Awao agrarian reform community. The assistance of the Agrarian Reform Infrastructure Support Project Phase 2 also included livelihood projects to augment our income such as rice seed and vegetable production, tilapia production and goat dispersal." – Moises [illegible] – Monkayo, Compostela Valley

"Kapag farmer ka, [illegible]!" I was inspired to work hard with the land awarded and support services provided by DAR. As is, I still reap an annual farm net income of P180,000 from my average yield of 800 cavans of rice per annum. My rice mill also earns a minimum of P3,000 a month. I also own a thresher, solar dryer, mechanical dryer, irrigation pump and a delivery truck. Most of all, my children are all degree holders." – Miguel Bello – Ocampo, Camarines Sur

REDUCED WATER RATES
FOR MANILA WATER CUSTOMERS
EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2007

Manila Water

Continuing economic growth and strengthening of the peso versus other currencies as well as the proper management of borrowings by the Company have resulted to a further reduction in the Foreign Currency Differential Adjustment (FCDA) by P0.09 centavos per cubic meter from - P6.28 per cubic meter to - P6.37 per cubic meter, effective July 1, 2007. FCDA is based on an exchange rate of P46.014 per US Dollar.

The further reduction in FCDA was approved by the METROPOLITAN WATERWORKS AND SEWERAGE SYSTEM thru Board Resolution No. 2007-112 dated 14 June 2007, confirming MWSS Regulatory Office Resolution No. 07-008-CA dated 13 June 2007.

FCDA is a tariff mechanism that is adjusted upwards to recover losses if the peso depreciates and downwards if the peso appreciates against other currencies. Manila Water has to continue paying for the foreign exchange-denominated concession fees to the MWSS, as well as loans required for its service expansion and improvement.

Manila Water Company continues to embark on an aggressive service expansion program to reach the fringe areas of Taguig, Antipolo, San Mateo, Rodriguez, Cainta, Taytay and Angono, in Rizal Province. Manila Water has also started providing water supply to the towns of Baras, Binangonan and Jalajala, also in Rizal. Currently, water supply projects have already commenced in the town of Teresa, also in Rizal. Further service improvement and rehabilitation programs are also being undertaken in areas with 100% water coverage which include the southeastern part of Quezon City, Mandaluyong City, San Juan, Marikina City, Pasig City, Pateros, Manila (San Andres and Sta. Ana only) and Makati City (east of South Super Highway).

Likewise, as part of the Company's mandate, Manila Water is expanding its wastewater operations and sanitation services all over the East Concession area to ensure the protection of the environment. Manila Water has recently completed the construction of two major septage treatment plants in Taguig and San Mateo.

To ensure the sustainability and reliability of water services in the East Zone, Manila Water is now exploring potential new water sources as well as implementing programs for service continuity in the event of calamities and other natural disasters.

WE ASKED Inquirer READers to nominate their daddies who have a knack for doing house repairs and improvements. Although we got terrific response—we had to plough through mountains of letters sent through snail or electronic mail—we had to choose only four due to space constraints.

'Pirates' censored for "vilifying Chinese"

DID YOU KNOW...

BEIJING - CHINA has censored part of the latest installment of the Hollywood movie "Pirates of the Caribbean" for "vilifying and defaming the Chinese," the official Xinhua news agency said on Friday.

The role of Hong Kong star Chow Yun-Fat, who plays pirate lord Captain Sao Feng, had been slashed in half to just about 10 minutes of screen time, the report said.

It cited local magazine 'The Popular Cinema' as saying: "The captain played by Chow is bald, his face heavily scarred. He also has a long beard and long nails, whose image is still in line with Hollywood's old tradition of demonizing the Chinese."

Xinhua added: "Chinese censors also cut Chow's line, 'Welcome to Singapore' because it likens Singapore to a bunch of pirates."

It quoted Zhang Pimin, deputy head of the film bureau of the State Administration of Radio, Film and Television, as saying the cuts had been made "according to the country's relevant regulations on film censorship." Reuters
